

Baird Medical Sponsored and Participated in 2024 Guangdong Thyroid Surgery Committee Annual Meeting

December 17, 2024

NEW YORK, Dec. 17, 2024 /PRNewswire/ -- Baird Medical (NASDAQ: BDMD), a leader in minimally invasive medical technologies, proudly sponsored and participated in the 2024 Guangdong Thyroid Surgery Committee Annual Meeting in Guangdong, China. The forum, hosted by the Guangdong Provincial Hospital of Traditional Chinese Medicine, brought together experts to advance thyroid disease treatment.

Throughout the two-day event, Baird Medical showcased its latest advancements in thyroid treatment, particularly focusing on its microwave ablation (MWA) technology. The forum brought together leading experts and healthcare professionals to discuss innovations in endoscopic and minimally invasive surgery, fostering the exchange of ideas and best practices.

"The Guangdong Thyroid Surgery Committee Annual Meeting is an ideal platform for sharing our latest advancements in thyroid ablation," said Haimei Wu, Chairwoman of Baird Medical. "This forum unites leading experts in thyroid surgery and provides valuable opportunities for collaboration and knowledge-sharing. We remain committed to refining surgical approaches and elevating patient care standards globally."

The event's interactive sessions provided Baird Medical with opportunities to engage in meaningful discussions with specialists about current challenges and future directions in thyroid care. Through its sponsorship and active participation, Baird Medical reinforced its commitment to driving progress in minimally invasive surgery and delivering impactful healthcare solutions worldwide.

By participating in this significant event, Baird Medical continues to solidify its role as an innovator in thyroid treatments, aiming to expand access to minimally invasive solutions and improve patient outcomes globally.
